□ STFM Wellness Afternoon; New Orleans Art Walk–Visual Thinking Strategies Tour Jeffrey Ring, PhD, Facilitator

This elective session is an interactive, participatory group experience in which we will look at art together according to the Visual Thinking Strategies approach (VTS).

As detailed in the article stfm.org/familymedicine/vol37issue4/Reilly250, the integration of medical humanities in resident education provides a rich, often enjoyable and refreshing experience for exploring the power of seeing with sustained attention, deep reflection, communal listening and team bonding, and the development of empathy. The VTS teaching methodology invites all participants to express their opinions of an artistic piece, receive positive affirmations for their contributions, value the contributions of others to deeper seeing what may not be initially visible, and to sustain attention on the artistic work.

This 2-hour session includes the viewing of art followed by debriefing and explaining the VTS approach, along with a conversation about applications to teaching. The final half hour provides an opportunity for participants to visit art on their own or in small groups, and to practice looking at art as we had done together as a group.

Refund Policy: If a registrant cannot attend a conference for personal or work reasons, requests for refunds must be received in writing by STFM by April 1, 2026 to receive a 50% registration fee refund. No refunds will be issued after April 1, 2026 except for those emergencies addressed below:

Refund requests due to medical or weather emergencies at time of conference may be eligible for a 50% refund. If a registrant is unable to attend because of a weather emergency, the registrant must show that they attempted to reschedule their travel arrangements but could not get to the conference during the official conference dates. In the event of such cancellation request by a conference registrant, the registrant must provide STFM with official documentation to support their request. In the unlikely and extreme event that STFM is forced to cancel a conference, STFM is not responsible for fees or penalties that conference registrants may incur for non-refundable airline tickets or hotel deposits.
